THE SIREN COLLECTION

Lauren Elaine Designs presents the Siren Collection. The Siren Collection gets its name from both the silver screen sirens of the 40s and 50s, as well as the mythical sirens from Greek Mythology. For the collection, Designer Lauren Elaine takes inspiration from water, full skirted vintage silhouettes of the 50s, fairytales, and a palette of aquas, pastels, bold brocades, and subtle hints of metallic. Visit www.Lauren-ElaineDesigns.com to view the entire Siren Collection.

"I've always been a bit of a romantic- always obsessed with fairy-tales, make-believe, and fantasy. I try to convey that sense of fun and idealism in my pieces. Because I studied film production in college, I've always taken huge inspiration from period pieces and movie costumes. I think of Fashion as the art form that best allows for self expression- so I'm always inspired to give a personality to each piece. You can always change the way you feel and how others perceive you by changing your clothing- kind of like playing a character in a movie."
